A historic barn kept its charming size, shape and details but was rebuilt and reborn as a fully modernized pool house that's a year-round retreat. Against a neutral palette and clean, crisp design, pops of tropical color say, "Vacation!" An extra-deep sectional, decorated with whimsical tropical pillows, faces the TV and linear gas fireplace. The feature wall is papered in a tropical tree leaf pattern. Reclaimed wood beams draw the eye to the vaulted 19-foot ceiling and two dramatic chandeliers. The height allowed for a loft space, where guests can work or sleep. The changing room and bathroom are placed beneath the loft. The bathroom has the designer's favorite feature—the indoor/outdoor shower. The outdoor shower is built from cedar planks, while the indoor shower is spare and modern. Outside, the building's cedar façade is stained white. Two seating areas lure with soft surfaces splashed with orange cushions. — BY ELIZABETH KEYSER
